

14
 FEBRUARY
2025

THE PAPERCLIP PRINCESS

CELEBRATING RESILIENCE AND INNOVATION
 IN THE BAY OF QUINTE REGION

NIKKICLARKENETWORK.COM

PRESENTED BY NIKKI CLARKE

INNOVATOR . TV HOST . ARTIST . ENTREPRENEUR . AUTHOR

TITLE SPONSORSHIP OPTIONS IN GREEN FOOTER

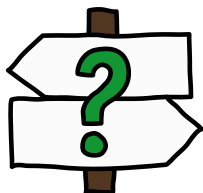

Meet Keisha, an inspiring 11 year old who turns a hobby of making jewelry out of colorful paper clips into a booming business.

AN INTERACTIVE TALE BY NIKKI CLARKE

Step into the enchanting world of The Paper Clip Princess, a story of resilience, ingenuity, and transformation by acclaimed author and entrepreneur Nikki Clarke. This unique interactive event brings the heart of the book to life, combining art, music, design, and community engagement to inspire participants of all ages.

THIS VALENTINE'S DAY...

TBD

(To Be Determined)

Do you have a beautiful venue to host Nikki Clarke? Email us at your earliest convenience: quinteculture@gmail.com

BE RECOGNIZED AS THE VISIONARY SPONSOR: 8K

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITY

Your support will help bring The Paper Clip Princess to life while highlighting your brand's commitment to creativity, sustainability, and equitable community impact.

FOSTER EQUITABLE INCLUSION WITH FINANCIAL ACTION

Provide or fund local accommodations for guest artists, speakers, and team members traveling to the event.

$700

$2500

Fund Afro-fusion cuisine for pre-registered guests, ensuring a memorable culinary experience that celebrates cultural diversity.

$500

$250

Fund Nikki Clarke's transportation costs for the weekend.

Fund materials for the Paper Clip Portraits collaborative mural and The Paper Clip Crown Collection workshops, ensuring participants can fully engage in these creative experiences.

$1500

Support the costs of securing a venue that reflects the creativity and accessibility of The Paper Clip Princess.

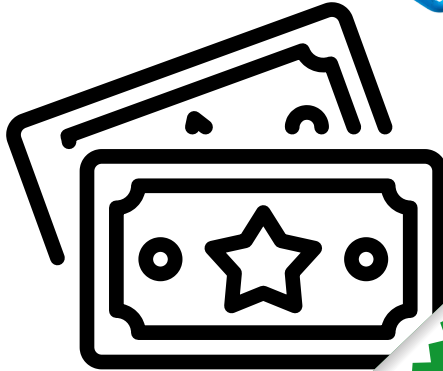

BE RECOGNIZED AS THE TRAILBLAZER SPONSOR: 6K

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITY

Thankful

$500

Honor the Haudenosaunee Confederacy, which includes the Mohawk Nation. The Thanksgiving Address (Ohén:ton Karihwatéhkwen, meaning "Words Before All Else") key to the opening ceremony of the event. This sacred address sets the tone of gratitude, harmony, and respect for all creation, embodying the values of The Paper Clip Princess and the event's spirit of unity and reconciliation.

$2000

Demonstrate your commitment to equity and restorative justice by supporting honourariums that reflect real honor for Black artists, performers, and facilitators. Your sponsorship ensures that their contributions are valued in a way that acknowledges their cultural significance, lived experiences, and the transformative impact of their work.

$1000

Fund an interactive crochet workshop led by Artist Educator Emmebet Belete. Materials will be provided to participants w/ sponsorship.

Fund the live performances of African drumming circle designed to set the tone for the event, celebrating rhythm, unity, and cultural expression.

$700

Reward the first 21 attendees with curated gift bags including a copy of the "Paperclip Princess" and other thoughtful items that reflect the themes of resilience, creativity, entrepreneurship, and gratitude creating a memorable keepsake for early participants.

$1000

BE RECOGNIZED AS A CATALYST SPONSOR: 3K

SPONSORSHIP PERKS

Our sponsorship perks are designed to provide meaningful opportunity for visibility, engagement, and community impact.

Who is Nikki Clarke?

Nikki Clarke is a dynamic entrepreneur, media personality, and community leader with a passion for empowering others.

She is the Immediate Past President of the Ontario Black History Society. She is the founder and host of the award-winning Nikki Clarke Show, which has been a platform for amplifying inspiring stories and promoting emerging talent for over 15 years. A talented author, Nikki has penned books such as "I Can Care but Can't Carry" and "The Paperclip Princess", showcasing her versatility as a storyteller.

Nikki is also a GrowthWheel Certified Business Advisor and the National Business and Membership Manager for the Canadian Black Chamber of Commerce, supporting Black businesses across Canada. Her work extends to public speaking, where she captivates audiences at events like the AU Caricom Summit and the Peace Ambassadors Gala. Whether as a performer, advocate, or mentor, Nikki continues to inspire change and foster resilience in communities everywhere.

Founder of award-winning Nikki Clarke Show,
Global Speaker, 100 Accomplished Black Canadian
Women 2022, Philanthropist +++

BE THE SOLUTION. REPAIRATIVE-ACTION BEGINS WITH YOU.

Remember, our sponsorship perks can be customized to align with your brand's values to ensure your sponsorship meets your specific goals and objectives.

CONTACT

Emma Brown

 604-849-2467

 quinteculture@gmail.com

